MANILA MERCHANTS URGED TO SEND STRONG DELEGATION TO PAN-PACIFIC CONGRESS

In a leading editorial headed "Will They Remain?" the Cablenews-American says:
Yesterday morning we had something to say in this column about the necessity of the Philippine Islands being represented at the Pan-Pacific Congress at Honolulu, about the middle of February. The writer believes that the islands or those who have the public affairs of the country in their keeping, will make a fatal mistake if they do not find some way to get strong men well steeped in the needs and possibilities of these islands to represent them in that congress.

This movement is fostered by men of large vision, with keen appreciation of what the future holds for the lands about the Pacific Ocean. They foresee what the opening of the Panama Canal will do for this quarter of the world, and what the awakening of the millions in China, India and other sections of the Orient will make possible for the commerce of the Orient. These men are moved primarily by impulses of business. Trade is their watchword; fostered by modern and Occidental methods; trade made possible only by rapid, regular and reliable transportation, and by tireless, intelligent and neighborly co-operation. This is the meaning of the "Hands Around the Pacific" clubs.

Can the Philippine Islands, in the midst of the Pacific, where the transportation lines connecting the great countries of the Orient with their consuming and producing millions meet—can the Philippines afford to stay out of this movement or even lag behind in it?

It ought not to be difficult for the government and the Manila Merchants' Association to find men to represent these islands at Honolulu when the Pan-Pacific Congress meets. Our attention has been called to the fact that at the present time Mr. Maurice Lowenstein and Mr. Martin Egan are now in the United States and will be returning to the islands across the Pacific at about the time the congress meets. There could not be found more able to represent these islands in a congress whose keynote is trade. Undoubtedly they would be willing to give their services for the good of the islands if they were requested to do so. Moreover, these will probably be men going from Manila to the coast at about that time who would gladly stop over to attend the congress. Men who know what these islands need, men able to rise to the spirit that has given birth to the Pan-Pacific congress and dominates it, could do these islands immeasurable good by attending the congress and counseling and discussing ways and means with the earnest men from other countries who will be there.

The Manila Merchants' Association has done much during the past year to induce the other commercial organizations of the city to co-operate with them and have admirably succeeded. Here is an appeal to the Manila Merchants' Association and to the government to co-operate in this larger and more transcendent movement that embraces the commercial welfare of the entire Orient. Will the Manila Merchants' Association and the government give this appeal as hearty and practical a response as the other commercial bodies of Manila have returned to the overtures of the association? We believe they will.

CHRISTMAS ON KAUAI

pleasing program consisting of vocal selections and oratorical exercises took up much of the forenoon, at the close of which the makings of a first-class luau received the undivided attention of the congregation.

Mrs. S. B. Deverill, proprietor of the Hana Hotel, gave a tree on Christmas eve, to the children of the neighborhood. The beautifully decorated tree produced packages of happiness for every little guest, as well as an abundance for the "grown-up children." On Christmas day, Mrs. Deverill was hostess at dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Menefoglio, Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn, Mr. Haynes, Miss Florence Deverill and seven children.

Decorations consisted of maize, a profusion of glittering tinsel and colored bells. The centerpiece was a large cluster of poinsettias. A separate table was provided for the little folks who sat incircled around a miniature Christmas tree all decorated and lighted up, serving as a centerpiece.

Another pretty little family tree in Lihue was that given by Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Hopper on Monday evening. The tree was magnificent in its splendor. The bright, gorgeous decorations reflecting the rays of the numerous lighted candles, and the array of presents sent the children into complete ecstasies of joy. The grown-ups caught the spirit and derived as much pleasure out of the occasion as did the little ones.

Manager and Mrs. Broadbent entertained at dinner Monday following which presents were distributed from an elaborately decorated family Christmas tree.

Honorable and Mrs. C. A. Rice gave a family tree Sunday evening to the irrepressible delight of their children. The tree fairly blazed with Christmas candles which lent a most pleasing effect to the exquisite decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Isenbarger invited our young people to a Christmas dinner at their beautiful home Sunday evening. The decorations consisted of the native Christmas holly, which was very pleasingly arranged. Covers were laid for twenty-two guests.

Scores of happy little hearts thronged in thankfulness for the joyous Christmas tree given by the Salvation Army in its hall at Koloa on Monday. A magnificent tree simply groaning with toys and sweetmeats for the boys and girls, decorated with a profusion of candles and gorgeous ornaments, caused many a little heart to almost stop in sheer delight.

Of the many Christmas trees at Lihue, the one given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice, Sr., on Christmas Day was one of the most enjoyable. Old Saint Nick in this instance simply outdid himself in his generosity, leaving a list of presents nearly impossible to enumerate, and, strange to say, each was precisely that for which the youngsters had most hoped. It is barely possible that the beautiful decorations and brilliant glow from the burning candles so pleased good old Saint Nick that he forgot there were other boys to visit, and lingered long enough beneath the tree to throw in a few extra presents. At any rate the little folks were generously treated and have rendered a vote of thanks to him.

The family Christmas tree given by Mr. and Mrs. Roendahl on Sunday evening was enjoyed by a goodly number of friends of those popular entertainers, both the decorations and presents being highly appropriate to the season. Among those present was Miss Mildred Dey, a niece of Mr. Roendahl, being a house guest. Miss Dey is a Punahou girl and will return to Honolulu next week.

A pretty little family Christmas tree was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Rohrig on Christmas eve. It was brilliantly illuminated by a profusion of candles and bright sparkling ornaments. It was certainly a delight to see.

Sunday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hogg was one long to be remembered by the youngsters who discovered right in their own home a real Christmas tree. The multitude of candles and glistening ornaments had evidently pleased Saint Nick, for he had left very, very many things which the young hearts had most desired. A gay time it was indeed, and shared in by Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt of Makaweli and Grandpa Lindsay of Waimea.

A family Christmas tree was given on Christmas eve by Manager and Mrs. Weber, the guests being Mr. Waggoner and Miss Smith of Honolulu.

The hospitable couple will give their annual luau in the nature of a pot supper to the employees of the plantation on New Year's eve. This is one of the annual occasions which is looked forward to with happy anticipation.

With characteristic enterprise the Lihue Sunday school children got a lead on Santa Claus by having their tree on Wednesday afternoon at the church. Some seventy-five presents were awarded, on a basis of faithful attendance. Some got as high as five gifts.

The beautiful family Christmas tree given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice, Jr., which is always looked forward to with happy expectation, was given at their pretty residence last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wishard's home tree on Sunday evening was an enjoyable affair. The tree, a home-grown product, was beautifully decorated and gave forth an abundance of pretty presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lydgate, Mr. and Mrs. Broadbent, Miss Albright and Mr. Vincent were the favored guests at a dinner party given by Miss Mumford Saturday evening to meet Miss Crandall of Punahou. The excellence of the dinner was surpassed by the grace and charm of the hostess, while the vivacity of the guests did justice to the occasion. With the dean of local raconteurs, a parson, a couple of deacon's daughters and an imaginary mistletoe bough, the evening couldn't be slow and it wasn't.

The first Christmas tree to be held at Waimea was that given in the Hawaiian church last Saturday evening under the direction of the members of the Hawaiian church and the Salvation Army. The tree was for the Sunday school children of both churches, and, notwithstanding that a full house was present, everybody received a gift from the tree. The affair was the most elaborate ever given there and hundreds of little hearts were made extremely happy.

The Japanese Sunday school gave a Christmas tree Monday in the hall. The house was appropriately decorated and the tree was burdened with gifts for all. The hall was filled with happy children.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sapling of Kalia entertained a number of friends at dinner Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brodie entertained at Christmas dinner Sunday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Boles, Mr. and Mrs. Moeller, Master Neil Moeller, Mr. and Mrs. Morse and Miss Anderson.

A delightful holiday affair was the tree given by Mr. and Mrs. Haastie on Sunday evening, their hospitality being enjoyed by quite a number of Eleele's younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kassebeer delighted a number of youngsters with a beautiful family tree which spread Christmas joy from every branch.

The little Korean church on the crest of the Kapala hill gave a tree to its members on Monday evening. The decorations, which were most generous, yet harmoniously placed, consisted of cypress and just the proper amount of colored paper cut into short strips, strung crosswise of the room. The tree stood near the pulpit and fairly groaned under its load of good cheer. A jacked house, with a goodly sprinkling of eager boys and girls, showed convincing proof that the bright faced Korean youth is as fully aware of the spirit of the time as his white brother. The tree yielded something for everybody and as a result happiness was depicted on every face.

Another pretty family tree was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheldon of Kapaa. Beautiful decorations, consisting of shiny silver bells, gold and silver tinsel, and numerous other ornaments combined with the light of dozens of little colored candles, made the tree a picture which completely captivated the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Sr., and the Misses Hannah and Daisy Sheldon of Lihue were among those present.

Mrs. E. W. Palmer belongs to the fraternity of Santa Claus, and is accordingly dear to the hearts of the children. With characteristic generosity she gathered them in on Christmas morning and loaded them up with Christmas packages. Long may she dwell in the land to do such kindly deeds.

The Makes entertained at dinner Monday evening, favors being laid for five, the dining room being tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Supervisor W. D. McBryde gave a Christmas tree to the young people of Malakoa Sunday night which was largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Ellis gave a family Christmas tree on Saturday night and entertained a number of friends at dinner on Christmas eve.

The occupants of Koloa Hospital were made glad by a tree set up in one of the wards of the newly erected hospital.

Principal and Mrs. H. C. Brown of Waimea gave an appreciative treat to quite a number of children in the shape of a family Christmas tree. The guests were numerous, but the Principal and Mrs. H. C. Brown of Waimea gave an appreciative treat to quite a number of children in the shape of a family Christmas tree. The guests were numerous, but the hosts had seen to it that the presents were equally so, and every little heart departed for home overjoyed with Christmas joy.

Besides the Salvation Army's Christmas exercises at Koloa, two smaller trees were held at Kukulua and Lihue, one hundred children being present, while a number of gifts were sent out to children in different localities who were not able to be present.

Christmas exercises were held at the Koloa Japanese and the Hawaiian church, of which Sol K. Kaulili is pastor. At the latter a series of tableaux representing the birth of Christ were presented. These were excellent and much credit is due Dr. and Mrs. Waterhouse for their work in training the children.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY.

If your druggist told you that you could simply wash away that awful itchy Eczema—yes—that the very first drops of a soothing, cleansing wash would give you instant relief, it would seem too good to be true, wouldn't it?

But it is true, every word. We keep on hand a supply of such a liquid known as the D. D. O. Prescription for Eczema, because we know that this wonderful compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients actually does wash away Eczema and all other skin impurities—that it clears the complexion overnight and leaves the skin as healthy and smooth as that of a child.

We could not recommend D. D. O. so positively unless we knew of the wonderful cures wrought by this remedy. We vouch for the merits of D. D. O. and know positively that it takes away the itch instantly. When your own druggist can give you certain relief from that awful itch, you don't need to suffer another day.

Wash away all your skin troubles with D. D. O. and then keep your skin in perfect condition with D. D. O. Soap. Let us tell you more about this wonderful remedy. Benson, Smith & Co.

What About That Dandruff?

There is just this much about it: Dandruff is a germ disease, is most untidy, annoying, and leads to baldness. When chronic, it is very stubborn, but surely yields to thorough and energetic treatment. All germs must be destroyed, the scalp must be restored to health. Here is the remedy: Ayer's Hair Vigor. Ask your doctor about using it.
